

Cookies Policy

This Cookies Policy explains how Munro Bowman Limited uses cookies and similar tracking technologies on our website munrobowman.co.uk. This policy should be read in conjunction with our Privacy Policy.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. They are widely used by website owners to make their websites work or to enhance their performance, as well as to provide reporting information.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies for the following purposes:

1. Essential cookies: These cookies are necessary for the functioning of our Website and enable you to navigate and use its features. Without these cookies, certain services on our Website may not be available.
2. Analytics cookies: We use analytics cookies to collect information about how visitors use our Website, such as the number of visitors, the websites that referred them to our Website, and the pages they visited on our Website. This information helps us improve the performance and user experience of our Website.
3. Marketing cookies: These cookies are used to track visitors across websites. The intention is to display ads that are relevant and engaging for the individual user and thereby more valuable for publishers and third-party advertisers.
4. Preferences cookies: Preferences cookies allow our Website to remember information that changes the way the website behaves or looks, such as your preferred language or region.
5. Third-party cookies: Our Website may contain cookies from third-party services, such as social media platforms and analytics providers. These third parties may use cookies to collect information about your browsing activities on our Website and other websites you visit.

How to manage cookies

You can manage your cookie preferences through your browser settings. Most web browsers allow you to control cookies through their settings preferences. However, please be aware that disabling or blocking certain cookies may affect the functionality and user experience of our Website.
